GCASE
Groundwater, Climate and Stakeholder Engagement

WORKSHOPS
DATE	LOCATION	PURPOSE	TOTAL ATTENDANCE*
October 18, 2012	University of Arizona (UA) Water Resources Research Center (WRRC), Tucson, AZ	Kickoff Workshop: Introduce stakeholders to project methodologies, including modeling framework, stakeholder engagement and climate projections; elicit feedback from stakeholders on case study scenarios and stakeholder communication	29
April 11, 2013	City Hall, Nogales, AZ	Milestone 1 Workshop: Present results of Santa Cruz Active Management Area (SCAMA) case study analysis of water management scenarios and elicit comments and additional questions for analysis	28
November 20, 2013	UA WRRC, Tucson, AZ	Milestone 2 Workshop: Present results of additional analyses for the SCAMA case study and elicit questions and comments, suggestions for potential locations for transferability workshops, wish list of next steps	28
April 22, 2014	Yavapai County Cooperative Extension Offices, Prescott, AZ	Transferability Workshop - Prescott: Summarize project case study and elicit comments on potential transferability of the methodologies in the region	16
April 23, 2014	Arizona Department of Water Resources, Phoenix, AZ	Transferability Workshop - Phoenix: Summarize project case study and elicit comments on potential transferability of the methodologies in the region	24
April 29, 2014	Pima Association of Governments, Tucson, AZ	Transferability Workshop - Tucson: Summarize project case study and elicit comments on potential transferability of the methodologies in the region	14
April 30, 2014	Upper San Pedro Partnership, Sierra Vista, AZ	Transferability Workshop - Sierra Vista: Summarize project case study and elicit comments on potential transferability of the methodologies in the region	13
November 13, 2014	Transferability Workshop - Rio Rico Esplendor Resort Rio Rico, AZ	Summarize project case study and elicit comments on potential transferability of the methodologies to Mexico	28
*Includes Project Advisory Committee and other members of the project team			